

The Sundodger

Presented by Kappa Kappa Psi
Volume 9, Issue 0.5 (Rookie Edition)

Welcome to the 2014 Husky Marching Band!

Congratulations on joining one of the most exciting and musically talented university marching bands in the Pac-12, and indeed in the entire nation! You will soon be swept up in our 85 years of tradition, learning the songs and moves that have become a staple at all University of Washington sporting events. We exist as a band to support our athletic teams and their loyal fans because we simply love to perform and entertain. In addition to playing at all major UW sporting events, gigs are a huge part of what we do and can be the highlights of the season if they are at an away game, or Opening Day. But the truly amazing thing about HMB is that this band is a family, because the people that make up this band are some of the friendliest, most generous and devoted people you will find anywhere. We really stick up for each other, and before you know it this huge school of thirty-five thousand undergraduates will truly feel small because you will run into band people all day, every day. What I'm trying to say is that this band is simply amazing. These first few weeks will be rough because of the immense amount of material HMB performs on a daily basis, music checks, learning a new style, and trying to remember everyone's name, not to mention the one week shows. But it will be worth it, I promise. No one forgets their first time running onto the field with their best friends to the cheers of seventy thousand.

I made this guide with the help of my publishing team and the veterans of HMB to ease the transition into HMB membership. A big thank you to Gary Nakayama, Louis Figueroa, Grey Larson, and Luke Waters for all the pictures! Please direct any questions or comments to gammarecsec@gmail.com. Thanks! -Becca Ward

The University of Washington Fight Song

Bow Down to Washington

Bow Down to Washington, Bow Down to Washington.

Mighty are the men who wear the Purple and the Gold,
Joyfully we welcome them within the Victor's fold.

We will carve our names (names!),

In the Hall of Fame (Fame!),

To preserve the memory of our Devotion.

So, heaven help the foes of Washington,

They're trembling at the feet of mighty Washington.

Our boys are there with bells (bells!),

Their fighting blood excels (excels!).

It's harder to push them over the line than pass the Darnelles!

So Victory's the cry of Washington

Our leather lungs together with a "Rah!, Rah!, Rah!"

And o'er the land, the loyal band

Will sing the glory of Washington forever!

In 1915, the University of Washington held a competition for the purpose of procuring a new fight song. The winner was Bow Down to Washington, written by Lester Wilson. It is rumored that Wilson could not transcribe music, so he plunked the tune out on piano while his friend transcribed it for him! He was awarded $25 for his trouble. The Husky Marching Band plays a few variations on this tune, including Bow Down, Bow II, Bow Little, Bow Chorus, Bow Special, and Bow Epic, each comes with the signal for Bow "thumb down" followed by a unique gesture. Although this song is one that the Husky Marching Band plays at every practice and game, it is difficult to get tired of the majestic melodies and resonating harmonies that the song employs. Start memorizing, as we sing the lyrics before every practice!

(Your Own) Brad's Wall

If you ever go down to the Dawg House (see next page), you will notice a huge board with all of our pictures on it. Yes, each and every single one of us. Believe it or not, Brad will know all of our names about two weeks into the school year (depending on how close your knees are to 90 degrees, how many songs you have memorized, etc.). Now it is your turn! On this page are Senior Staff, Student Staff, and all of the section leaders. Get to know their faces well, they will be happy to answer any questions you have.

From the Veterans of Husky Marching Band

We asked members of Husky Marching Band, who have been through all of this before for their advice to rookies. This is what they said:

Take Care of Yourself!

"Just be you." -Raymond Kenworthy

"Remember to breath." - Joelle Blais

"Take things one day at a time. Drink water. Eat breakfast, even if you don't have an appetite. Bring snacks. Spend some time with your fellow rookies (in your own section and others) outside of band. Smile." -Grey Larson

Meet New People!

"Take a second to talk to people outside your section—they're going to sign your rookie shirt anyway!" - Kaila Eason

"Never stop meeting new people."—Charlie Levin

"Water breaks are your time to make new friends. Don't stress out over your music and charts during free time but rather strike up a conversation with someone you haven't talked to yet." -Joelle Blais

Memorize Your Music!

"Memorize as much music as possible as early as possible." -Rebecca Van-Den-Ende

"Memorizing your music in combination with the choreography that we do is super helpful." - Morgan Butler

Have Fun!

It's gonna get crazy and hectic, and people will get stressed out, but just hang in there. You will make it out alive. Don't forget to have fun." —Melissa Tayon

"Don't be too cool for choreography. Dress up for rallies. Have fun, but remember that being your best on game day always comes first." -Alison Leonard

"Just go for it and have fun!" -Mayowa Aina

Helpful Hints

"DON'T WEAR RED. Seriously. Don't be that guy" - Morgan Butler

"Wash your gloves..." - Rebecca Van-Den-Ende

"Don't be late!" -Raymond Kenworthy

"Ask for help when you need it and strive for the highest." - Mayowa Aina

Clubs, RSO's, and other Groups we're part of

The University of Washington offers over 700 different clubs and Registered Student Organizations, as well as countless different fraternities and sororities. This is one of the best ways to make the UW feel like an even smaller school! This is a small sampling of the different types of groups members of Husky Marching Band are part of:

- Symphonic Band
- Campus & Concert Band(s)
- Wind Ensemble
- Symphony
- Unleashed! A Cappella
- Kappa Kappa Psi - Honorary Band Fraternity
- Husky Winter Sports
- Intermural Soccer
- Women's Rugby
- Longboarding Club
- Black Student Union
- First Year Programs
- Odegaard Writing & Research Center
- Swing Kids
- Humans Vs. Zombie Tag (HVZT)
- American Fisheries and Science Society
- UW Leaders
- Bay Laurel Catering Crew

And You Are...?

Band camp is long. Twelve hours a day for five days a week, and then Game Day Saturday. However it is not all sweat and toil! During the breaks that we get for lunch and dinner we get a chance to introduce ourselves to the other sections. However since most of the veterans already know each other, it is YOU that we want to get to know. We will have all the rookies tell the group who they are, where they are from, and usually a fun fact of some sort! Here are some suggestions for the fun fact portion, as these are how we really get to know who you are and what you are into:

- Something that you're passionate about
- Different places you've lived
- Unique talents
- Favorite Hobbies
- Favorite type of music, or bands
- Famous people you've seen
- Interesting Heritage
- Favorite Video Games
- Ever done something crazy or extreme?
- Sports you play
- Outside activities
- Favorite books
- Life threatening experiences
- How you started in band
- Can you play other instruments?
- Favorite vacation spot
- Attractions in your home town
- Superstitions?
- Favorite food or dish
- Do you collect anything?

Other ways to meet us.

There is no denying it, the Husky Marching Band is a big band. It is not too difficult to meet people in your section, as they are the ones who you will be practicing music with, who you'll be in squads with, and who you will look to for guidance on a daily basis. But what about everyone else in band? Every single section has their own distinct personality, and each one has wonderful people to make friends with. Meeting people outside your section can be a little challenging, so besides lunch and dinner meet and greets, here are some other activities that are geared towards meeting others in HMB:

- Pre-Rally functions
- Tequila Bowl
- Kappa Kappa Psi
- Family Night
- Gigs & Pepbands
- Volleyball Band, Basketball Band
- Bowl Trips & Away Games (specifically really long bus rides)
